Of Catholic Boys Is the Foundation For High-minded Men.

President of Brooklyn College Talked to His Many Pupils.

Pointed Out Errors of Those Who Made Our Schools Irreligious.

URGED ALL TO KEEP THE FAITH

Recently the President of Brooklyn College, Rev. Father J. F. X. O'Connor, celebrated his silver jubilee, and at the "College Night" reception he addressed the students in a paternal manner. What he said to the boys of Brooklyn might be said to every boy attending a Catholic school or college. Among other things Father O'Connor said:

"Not turrets or high walls make a city, but men, high-minded men. Not spacious halls and stocked intellects make a college, but Christian boys, high-minded boys with faith in their minds and the love of Christ in their hearts. These make a college alone worthy of the name. The great joy to me in this jubilee, with the glory of the spiritual joy of twenty-five years of priesthood, is the thought that God has given to me this year 400 boys. Four hundred boys with the faith of the Christian in their minds, the love of Christ in their hearts, the beauty and the morality of the law of Christ in their lives, which can be brought there and kept there only by the dogmatic teaching of the Christian faith."

"This you will not find in the other universities of the land who do not or can not enforce dogmatic teaching of the Christian faith because there the President can not control the professors if he wills, and the professors will not accept the control of Christian faith, and the pupils turn away from God. Their minds are plunged into a chaos of doubt and bewilderment and their college career leaves them agnostics or infidels, and has robbed them of the Christian faith of their childhood. But this is not so with you, my boys. You believe in God, in the teaching of Jesus Christ, the Son of God, in the teachings, the dogmatic teachings of the church founded by Him. You know right from wrong and wrong in the moral life what you have to do, and what you have to avoid, and you know this is the command of God, which has the sanction of the eternal law of heaven. That is, that God will punish evil and reward good, and that you must answer to the Almighty for every thought and word and deed of your lives, from the beginning to the end of life. If you have served God according to the conditions He has laid down, you will have eternal life. If not, eternal death. There is the greatest lesson of your college life—with it you are men, high-minded men; without it you become cultured criminals whose only law is their passions, the desires of their hearts and the Holy Ghost says, 'He that giveth his heart its desires will become a joy to his enemies.'"

"This is why the cry goes up in the land for religion in the schools, in our colleges and universities—and from all men who have not lost their Christian faith. And the only ones who are satisfied with other conditions are those who have lost their faith in God—whether so-called Protestants, Jew or Gentile, who have become practical infidels, whether they choose to themselves a name of better sound, whether it be agnostic, materialist, rationalist, socialist, freethinker, liberated from the oppression of 'creed or dogma.' But it matters not what they call themselves, their faith is dead, they have turned aside from God, they have rejected Christ and embraced their self-made and self-taught religion, and have cast their joy and happiness in the material things of time and life, in pleasure, passion, ambition—and for them beyond there is no sternity, no heaven, no God."

"It is this appalling state of things that chills the heart of the man that has a vestige of Christianity. It is the awakening to the knowledge of this fact that brings to every earnest and sincere Protestant, Jew or man who values faith, the realization that he must have his faith and religion and in some form in education, outside of the faithless education that has set its grasp upon public and private education of so many of the schools of the day. It is your faith, my boys, more than your intellectual or scientific knowledge that will make you worthy leaders of men in life, and help you to battle against the foe of irreligion that threatens to sap the life of our great nation."

MERELY ROUTINE.

First Vice President Joseph J. Hancock presided over the meeting of Mackin Council on Monday night. C. Schaefer, J. Doran, C. Oswald and Raymond Riddle, all on the list, were reported improving. Quite a lot of routine business was transacted. Progress was reported on arrangements for the Niagara Falls and sunset excursions. A full report will soon be ready showing the results of the last operative undertaking. At the meeting Monday night the delegates to the Grand Council will be present to hear suggestions from all members of the Y. M. F.

LIVE WIRES

Kept Things Moving at Quarterly A. O. H. Meeting.

The four divisions of the Ancient Order of Hibernians held their general quarterly meeting, at Bernard Hall last Sunday afternoon. County President D. J. Coleman presided and the attendance was large and representative. Thomas Lawler, of Division 1, read the communication from the National Board on organization and general good of the order.

William M. Higgins was called upon for an address and spoke on the necessity of organization. Thomas W. Tarpey advocated the unification and consolidation of the four local divisions. He also suggested means by which the general membership would be increased, and commended the young men for perpetuating this great society that had been founded by their forefathers.

Ex-County President Patrick Welsh made a strong plea for the recognition of the South on the National Board. He also reminded the members that the four divisions had resolved on a big street parade next St. Patrick's day and called upon all to strive to increase the membership. Attorney Lawrence J. Mackey also spoke in favor of a better representation from the South on the National Board.

John H. Hennessy, President of Division 4, was called upon to tell the secret of his division's success in securing new members. He declined to reveal any secrets, but said his division was made up of hustlers who stood by their officers and did what was expected of them.

Others who made able addresses and timely suggestions were William P. McDonogh, John J. Barry, Thomas Walsh, Thomas Keenan, Thomas Lynch and County President, Coleman.

IRISH AIRS

Responsible For American Martial and Fighting Music.

All that glitters is not gold neither is all American music of American origin. During the civil war both sides stole melodies from the European nations, and now, according to authentic reports, "Yankee Doodle" and "Dixie" are old Irish airs adapted to suit Americans. One of our esteemed Irish-American friends in Louisville sends us the following:

Appropos of the discussion relative to the origin of "Dixie," the following letter of W. H. Gratton Flood, author of the "History of Irish Music" and "History of the Harp," throws further light on this famous melody. Mr. Flood is a responsible authority and is not given to unqualified statements: "My publishers duly forwarded me your letter, and I have much pleasure in answering it, if only to vindicate the Irish origin of 'Yankee Doodle.' Marion Harland merely repeats the exploded myth as told for the past century in all published accounts of the origin of 'Yankee Doodle' until Charles I. and Cromwell association was shown to be utterly absurd by Bartley Squire, of the British Museum. The verses to Lucy Lockett can not possibly have been written before the year 1728, whilst Kitty Fisher did not die until 1771. I state now definitely that the tune of 'Yankee Doodle' is Irish and was known before the year 1750 as 'All the Way to Galway.' The song of 'Yankee Doodle' was adopted to this air in 1755 (1756?), and the earliest reference to it is in April, 1767, when it was included as the fourth air in the comic opera of 'The Disappointment.' Oliver Wendell Holmes rightly calls the air 'a country dance,' and a manuscript copy of the Irish dance tune dated 1750 is still preserved. It was first printed by Aird, of Glasgow, in 1782. 'Dixie' is also an Irish air, merely arranged by Dan Emmett for Bryant's minstrels. By the way, Bryant himself, who ran the Christy minstrel business in New York in 1850, was an Irishman. His real name was Cornelius O'Brien, and he died in Brooklyn in 1902. There were three brothers in the family—Cornelius (Neill), Daniel and Jerry. Neill gave the Irish air to Dan Emmett, who sang it in New York in February, 1859."

CLERGY TAKE VACATIONS.

Rev. Father Martin O'Connor, pastor of St. Michael's church, has gone to the rural districts for a brief rest. In his absence Dominican Fathers are looking after the parish's spiritual welfare. Rev. Father William Gausepohl, pastor of St. Mary Magdalen church, has taken a vacation for two weeks, and Rev. Father Patrick Monaghan is caring for the parish in his absence. Rev. Father A. J. Brady expects to leave for Northern Michigan in a few days.

HOLY CROSS FETE.

The people of Holy Cross congregation are preparing to give a fete on the church lawn on Monday and Tuesday, August 7 and 8. An elegant supper will be served each evening.

LAUDED.

Ohio's Leading Journal Sings Praises of Hon. Timothy Hogan.

Attorney General Being Advocated For Gubernatorial Honors.

Was Formerly State President of the Ancient Order of Hibernians.

HAS VISITED IN THIS CITY

It is not often that anyone gets such a swell send-off in the Cincinnati Enquirer as that given Hon. Timothy S. Hogan, Attorney General of Ohio, last Sunday. Attorney General Hogan is prominent in Hibernian circles and has been State President of the A. O. H. in Ohio, besides being a delegate to several national conventions. He has visited Louisville and is much admired by local members of the Ancient Order. Mr. Hogan is a first cousin of Michael Hogan, the Western Union operator who manipulates the key for the Courier-Journal and Times. This is what the Cincinnati Enquirer says about him:

Looming above the horizon, as they say in the novels, is a new figure in the Democratic gubernatorial field of possibilities. It is that of Attorney General Timothy S. Hogan, of Jackson county. Able, intelligent and patriotic editors in Athens, Scioto and Jackson counties have discovered his qualifications for the Chief Executive ship and are proclaiming them to the breeze, as the novelists also say. Indeed, to again use the language of the romanticists, they are nailing his flag to their staffs, or staves, whichever happens to be correct.

It is being desecrated upon that the Attorney General has in the six months of his incumbency made his department a vital force in the government of the State. Dormant suits, instituted by his predecessors and allowed to languish, have been revived. Quarrels have been opened into the mountain of unfinished business, especially that relating to uncollected and contested taxes, and thousands of dollars will soon be pouring into a State Treasury that sadly needs them. "Flap-jack" opinions rendered by other Attorney Generals, slapped together overnight to meet exigencies, have been reversed, greatly to the benefit of other State departments. Partisanship, it is advanced, finds no place in his labors.

His prompt and effective part in the prosecution of Democratic grafters in the General Assembly has won for him great encomiums, and his rulings against public officials of his own party in the matter of fees and salaries unjustly claimed and paid have been uniformly on the side of the common weal. His nonpartisanship has been shown especially in the retention in a prominent place in his department of Clarence D. Laylin, special counsel under Attorney General Denman and the son of Chairman Lewis C. Laylin, of the Republican State Committee, who did his level best to defeat him for election. These things argue to the minds of his supporters a cogent reason why he should in 1912 be chosen to lead the party.

It is said in his behalf that he is a campaigner of more than ordinary ability. Again, he has been a loyal adherent of Governor Judson Harlan and was at his side during the crucial times when desertion and treachery threatened the party through the machinations of the "yellow dog" group in the Ohio Senate. All in all, an effective argument is being made in his favor. Should he consent to becoming a candidate the Tenth Congressional District will undoubtedly come into the field in a solid phalanx for him.

It is a matter of comment that the name of the candidate who was defeated by Mr. Hogan, Grant Denman, of Toledo, is being canvassed as a candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor. Since his retirement Mr. Denman has been made United States District Attorney and on that account it is far from likely that he will permit the use of his name. Should, however, there come a change and he and Hogan should be nominated, an interesting situation would be formed. Both are clean and capable men with splendid records for efficiency as legal advisors for the State, the voters of which could view the contest with complete complacency, resting secure in the knowledge that no matter which was elected, their interests would be safeguarded.

HIS OLD KENTUCKY HOME.

Rev. Father J. R. Clark, O. P., until recently pastor of St. Louis Bertrand church, now master of novices at St. Joseph's College near Somerset, Ohio, has been spending this week with his father at Fairfield.

NEW ALBANY WEDDING.

Miss May Corlane Belvis, of New Albany, and Edward C. Zipp, of Sellersburg, Ind., were united in marriage at St. Mary's church, New Albany, on Wednesday morning. The Rev. Father W. F. Selberts performed the nuptial rite and celebrated the mass that followed. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Zipp and the bridal party were entertained at breakfast at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Oscar Hon, 601 Culbertson avenue. Later in the day the bridal party dined at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Belvis, on the Grant Line road.

DYING HARD

Are the Tory Peers in Their Flight Against the Veto Measure.

Rumors That the Lords Will Reject the Bill Now Pending.

King and Queen Pleased With Reception Given Them in Ireland.

MAKING POLITICAL CAPITAL

The Tory Peers are dying in the last ditch according to the latest cable advice. It is now probable that the Peers instead of amending the veto bill and sending it back to the House of Commons will reject it entirely. In that event Premier Asquith will request King George to create 500 new Peers. However, the Liberals are no more anxious than the Tories to see the House of Lords, inflated, and the Premier's request to the King will not be made until the Lords make it absolutely unavoidable.

Two moves were made in the House of Lords on Monday that excited comment. One was a conference of the Conservative leaders, the Marquis of Lansdowne, the Earl of Selbourne, Baron Middleton and the Marquis of Salisbury and others. Just what transpired at the conference has not been given out authoritatively, but it is rumored that the Conservatives have decided to reject the veto bill altogether. The second move of the day to cause comment was Lord Morley's appeal to the Liberal Peers. In a circular letter addressed to them he said:

"It is possible that a certain number of opposition Peers may force division on the third reading of the Parliamentary bill. The momentous results at stake, both immediate and in the future, make it in the highest degree desirable that no supporter of the bill should be absent from his place. I earnestly trust therefore that Your Lordships will not fail to give His Majesty's Government the advantage of your presence on what may prove so truly critical an occasion."

Lord Morley's unusual appeal has been attributed to a threat to reject the bill. The matter caused quite a flurry for a little while and then was succeeded by comfortable calm. Meanwhile there is a struggle on between the two factions of the Conservatives in the House of Lords, the standpaters and those who are willing to accept the bill under protest.

While the Lords are worrying over the veto bill the newly crowned King and Queen appear to be hugely enjoying themselves. Within a week they visited Ireland, Wales and Scotland, and if reports be true they enjoyed their visit to Ireland more than the tours of Wales and Scotland. Regarding his visit to Ireland King George said: "I never knew anything like it," and Queen Mary chimed in: "It was really a delightful home made so perfectly at home on the instant we arrived, and the warmth of the people thrilled us."

Both political parties are trying to make capital out of the royal visit to Ireland. The Unionists declare that the Nationalists showed the King that they were perfectly contented and did not want home rule, while the Nationalists believe that the King will do his utmost to restore Ireland's Parliament.

ORPHANS' PICNIC.

St. Joseph's Asylum Lawn Will Present Gala Scene.

The annual picnic for the benefit of St. Joseph's Orphan Asylum will be held on the asylum grounds on Wednesday, August 9. All the committees are working vigorously to make this picnic the best ever given for the institution.

St. Joseph's is an asylum where German Catholic orphans are reared and educated. Some of Louisville's leading business men were reared in that institution and several of its former inmates have become priests. Under the care of the Ursuline nuns the children are well cared for and are healthy and happy.

Every Catholic in the city ought to attend the coming picnic and aid a very worthy cause. The beautiful lawn will be specially decorated and illuminated for this occasion.

BISHOP MAES RESTS.

The Right Rev. C. P. Maes, Bishop of Covington, is enjoying a brief vacation at Monroe, Mich. It is not often that Bishop Maes takes a rest.

CONTRAST

Turmoil in the Republican Ranks and Harmony Among Democrats.

Gov. Willson and Senator W. O. Bradley Have Reason to Sulk.

Mayor Head and the Administration Are Working for State Ticket.

LIVE MEN FOR THE LEGISLATURE

The Democratic State Executive Committee met in Louisville on Thursday to canvass the returns in the recent primary. This caused a gathering of Democrats from all over the State, and there was not a sign of discord. All are pulling for James B. McCreary and the entire State ticket. The Democratic ticket was named by the people; the Republican ticket was named by one man, Judge Edward C. O'Rear.

Mr. O'Rear outwitted all opponents and beat down all opposition. Pretending to be friendly to Robert W. Slack, of Owensboro, he made overtures to Mayor Helburn, of Middlesboro. When he got good and ready he threw them both down and nominated for Lieutenant Governor a man whose ideas are as narrow as his own. Some people are inclined to believe that Mayor Helburn was turned down because he was of Jewish origin, and Mr. Slack was rejected because he is a Catholic. Undoubtedly Judge O'Rear will discredit such reports, but people will talk, you know.

There is all kinds of strife in the Republican party. Gov. Willson and his friends are playing golf and pinocchio while the campaign goes on. United States Senator Bradley is in Washington getting up a good swell from the roasts applied to him by the Louisville Evening Post. When Senator Bradley decides to answer the Post there will be little left of that paper and its gubernatorial candidate, because Mr. Bradley has the tongue of a Galway fisherman when he gets his dander up. When he goes after anybody he uses a club rather than a bludgeon. The corpse that remains after he gets through is not very inviting to members of the family, but it is just as dead as death can make it.

During the week Senator James B. McCreary and Hon. E. J. McDermott called upon Mayor Head, who assured them that they and the entire Democratic ticket would have his support and the support of the entire city administration and its friends. On the Democratic side there does not seem to be a weak link anywhere. All are working in harmony and for the benefit of the party.

Both boards of the General Council have one admirable work since election, and the Democrats will make no mistake by re-electing them in their entirety. It is pleasing to note that young and aggressive Democrats are offering for the Legislature. Thomas Knight, Adam Spahn, Will Perry, Peter Lee Atherton and Samuel J. Robertson are the type of Democrats who do things. The next Legislature will be called upon to make many revisions in State laws and the Louisville representatives should be men of tact, intelligence and without fear of hard work. No bigot and no foe of union labor should find a place on the ticket. If the right men are named, as seems probable, Louisville will help swell the McCreary-McDermott majority.

Tuesday announcement was made that Commonwealth's Attorney Frank E. Daugherty, of the Fourth district, and former County Judge of Nelson county, will seek the Democratic nomination for Representative in Congress. Judge Daugherty says it has been his ambition for years to represent his district in the National House of Representatives. He said that he would not press his candidacy, however, until next year.

At a meeting here of the Democratic State Executive Committee on Thursday a call was issued for a State convention to be held in Louisville on August 15, to formulate a platform on which the State ticket is to run at the coming November election. It is provided in the call that the delegates be chosen at mass county conventions on August 12. The basis of representation will be one delegate for each 200 votes cast for Bryan for President in 1908, and one for each fraction over 100. At the same time Rufus H. Vannant, a wealthy lumberman of Ashland, was elected Chairman of the State Campaign Committee.

The official count of the vote in the recent primary was also made Thursday, when Iloa, Edward J. McDermott and Henry M. Bosworth were declared the nominees, each having received a decided majority of the votes cast.

DESERVED PROMOTION.

Thursday the Board of Safety recognized the long and faithful services of Sergeant James P. Gardner and Corporal Mike Cross by promoting them to Lieutenant and Sergeant respectively. This action upon the part of the board will meet with public approval, and was hailed with delight by the legion of friends of the two officers named, than whom there are no better on the force.

ONLY ROUTINE.

But Members of Division 3, A. O. H., Talked Picnic.

As a result of the big general quarterly meeting of the A. O. H. on Sunday afternoon, Division 3, A. O. H., held a well attended meeting Monday night. D. J. Coleman presided and four applications were received. Reports were read from the National and State officers showing that the division was in good financial and numerical standing. Patrick Kilkenny was reported ill but improving; James Broderick was also reported ill.

Lawrence J. Mackey reported the proceedings of the general quarterly meeting of last Sunday. Thomas Quinn made a nice address, and at his suggestion the division decided to hold its next meeting on Monday, July 31, so as not to conflict with the picnic of the Ladies' Auxiliary. Patrick T. Sullivan and John Horan delivered able addresses on Hibernianism and delved into Irish history in their respective arguments. Under the head of good of the order interesting talks were made by George J. Butler, John M. Maloney, L. J. Mackey, P. T. Mullen, John G. Hession and others. All of them talked about the coming picnic and expressed the wish that it would be a success. At the close President D. J. Coleman said he hoped every member of Division 3 would give his personal attention to the picnic on Thursday night.

SARCASM.

Quaint Irish Saint Knew How to Stop All Trouble.

The giant steamships sailing from New York are packed with tourists and it is safe to say that a trip through Ireland is included in the itinerary of many of them. If those who visit the beautiful Lakes of Killarney will stop at the parish of Kilkummin, which is but a few miles away, they will see the recently erected memorial cross marking the spot on which mass was said in the open air for nearly one hundred years in the penal times. The cross, which is of marble, Celtic shaped, and resting on a pedestal of limestone, is the first of its kind erected in Ireland. The parish of Kilkummin is one of the historic parishes in Ireland. During the penal days, when the same place was set on the head of a priest as the head of a wolf, many priests were murdered in this parish of Kilkummin by Cromwellian troops.

The patron saint of Kilkummin is St. Cummin, who was born about 100 years after the death of St. Patrick and died in the year 691. He was born at a place named Drum-dar. The exact spot has not yet been identified. We know it was not far from the shores of the Lakes of Killarney, and it may possibly have been Kilkummin parish itself. He is the author of a Latin poem in honor of the apostles, a celebrated treatise or letter on the Paschal controversy and a Penitential or collection of decrees taken from the councils of the church and other sources regulating the law of penance.

That St. Cummin was the author of the last named work is questioned by some, but the probabilities are overwhelmingly preponderant that he was the writer. The treatise on the Paschal question shows not merely the great learning of the writer, but the advanced state of learning in Ireland at the time. The author shows a profound knowledge of Holy Scripture, and also a great knowledge of the fathers and the canon law of the church. He quotes the canons of the Councils of Nice and Arles. His writings also show that he was thoroughly familiar with the writings of St. Jerome, St. Cyprian, St. Gregory, St. Augustine and Origen. He was a strict disciplinarian and to a few monks in the north of Ireland who differed with the rest of the world on the question when the Easter festival should be celebrated St. Cummin wrote: "Rome has erred, Antioch has erred, Jerusalem has erred, Alexandria has erred, and only a handful of Irishmen in the north are right."

SPIRITED CONTEST.

The Ladies' Auxiliary, A. O. H., is anticipating a bazaar crowd and a lively time at their picnic, which will be given at Fontaine Ferry Park on Monday, August 7. Three young ladies, Misses Nellie Broderick, Virgie Donahue and Stella Cronan, are engaged in a spirited ticket selling contest, the winner to receive either a diamond ring or a gold watch.

COLLEGE PRESIDENT.

Rev. Brother Sulpicius has been appointed President of St. Joseph's College, which will be reopened under the direction of the Xaverians in September. For a number of years Brother Sulpicius was a member of the faculty at St. Xavier's College, Louisville. Later he was head of the Catholic High School at Wheeling, Va., and for the past six years has been Director of the Catholic High School at Somerset, Mass.

PERTINENT.

Rev. Father John Talbot Smith Is Entertaining in His Remarks.

Declares That Few in American Republic Know Church History.

Lesson For Materialists Politicians of Europe in Brief.

SOME GOOD CATHOLIC READING

Rev. Father John Talbot Smith, L. D., has said the foreword in introducing "Catholic church history in America," now being issued by the Catholic Editing Company. Among other things Father Smith says:

One peculiar fact about the Catholic church in the American republic is that so few know anything about it. And another fact in the same connection, amusing as well as peculiar, is that so many who should be interested in it do not care to say anything about it. Perhaps the striking and amusing fact of all is that the few who know and care to know something about the Catholic church in the republic know so much and know it so badly.

Of course our orators and editors know something about it, to judge by their pleasant paragraphs on occasions. We are told in grandiose sentences of the splendid growth of the church in America, but their knowledge begins and ends in these gorgeous phrases. What are the characteristics, what are its tendencies, no one knows. Outside of the professors of history in the Catholic colleges, only the few have read John Gilmary Shea's four volumes, or Bishop O'Gorman's sketch in one volume of American church history.

This absence of knowledge and lack of interest are both fully indicated by the absence of books on this subject. The publishers will not print, because they are fully convinced Catholics will not buy, books of this kind. The public will not buy because they fancy they know all about it, or think it uninteresting as compared with the life of Napoleon, or the history of the Spanish American war, told by the yellow journals.

Real knowledge of the church in this republic is confined to a few professors and writers and clergymen, who must go to Shea for original documents to increase their store of information. Consequently five millions of intelligent Catholics, and millions of non-Catholics, are very much astonished to find that the Catholic church in America is a thing of the past. The church in America is a thing of the present and the future. The results of that genuine history published by the Catholic Editing Company, will be all-around the churchmen and statesmen of the school!

What a lesson for Protestants! Every sect, who proudly proclaim that the Catholic church is dying in the air of liberty, is do poisoned by that, where? Yet the church has 'shriken beyond the saints.' What a lesson for Materialist politicians! America, who declare that Christ a dead issue, a relic floating on the sea of time, never to be force among living men! Yet force so living and strong in American republic as the Catholic church. What a lesson for the torians of the schools, who thought they could safely ignore the church's existence in their one-sided books and now find themselves charged with ineptness and unbelief, as well as timidity and injustice!

What a lesson for Catholics! selves, both at home and abroad. For they at home slighted greatness by remaining in the place of indifference, ignorance with regard to the confided to them by the world with contempt and unjust charge, with no preparation for honesty. The church in America is a thing of the past and the future. The results of that genuine history published by the Catholic Editing Company, will be all-around the churchmen and statesmen of the school!

JOKING WITH DEATH.

Urban C. Watkins, of the Louisville Board of Public Safety, seems to be an unconscious joker. He wants to fix automobile speed limits at Preston street on the east and at Fifteenth street on the west. Is it not just as dangerous to be killed by an automobile at Shelby street as at Preston street? Is there not as much traffic at Eighteenth street as on Fifteenth street? Somebody has poked a little joker into Mayor Head's cabinet. The people of the residence districts are entitled to the same protection as those of the business section. Human life is the same the city over, and the law that protects it should be the same everywhere under the jurisdiction of the Board of Safety or the city government. Make laws that will protect all alike and cut out discrimination. Otherwise they will be a law and the present excessive loss of life and injury to the people will continue.

POPE AND PEACE.

Providence Visitor last week contained the following very excellent editorial on "The Pope and Peace":

The letter of our Holy Father relating to the arbitration treaty is another manifestation of the Pope's solicitude for the world's peace. It was a gracious act. Coming from the head of the church, it manifests the moral support, the appreciation and good will of the Catholic world. It is the "expression of religion sanctioning the efforts of the American people in behalf of peace. The Pope has recognized and appreciated the spirit of America; he has witnessed the spirit of fair play, the desire for justice and liberty; he has come to know the candor and open policy of our Government and the true movements of the United States and therefore realizes that behind our efforts for universal peace there are no sinister motives. He has praised the efforts of the Government because he believes and trusts it.

There is something touching of interest manifested by our Father. Time was when his added more strength to the peace horn, an arbitrator. Since the ages of Roman persecution the Pope has been the promoter of peace. When the hordes of barbarians swept like a hurricane from the north upon the fair fields of lawless war and devastation and common pursuits of men, the Pope alone stood firm, ordering out of chaos, and teaching the gospel of peace. When the hordes of barbarians, then in existence to aid their attitudes. Yet in the thought of the church, the Pope brought barbarous customs and instilled into the hearts of the savage invader the principles of Christianity, the love of the neighbor, and the aversion to war.

It was the Pope who instituted "Truce of God," which forbade on certain days of each week, as the Pope who banished all war by throwing their support to the central governments. The Pope united Europe to a man to the continent against the Turk. The power and influence of the Pope was present at the restoration, and often came strong to spare the weak.

It was the Pope who, in the time when he was not active in the world, is touching, though to the history of the Holy Father's letter. He saved the seed, we are harvest. Nineteen hundred and ten, teaching and teaching fruit. And often that seed fell around and on rocks and boulders, yet it grew.

NEW HONORS

Thrust Upon Mother Europa of the Sisters of Charity.

The Sisters of Charity of Nazareth held a general chapter at Nazareth Academy on Wednesday, and elected officers to serve three years. It was the first general chapter since the order was officially recognized by Pope Pius X. two years ago. Sister Eutropa was elected Mother General; Sister Rosa, Assistant Mother; Sister Julia, Second Assistant Mother; Sister Mary Stephen, Third Assistant Mother, and Sister Marie Fourth Assistant Mother. The Very Rev. Father James P. Cronin, V. G., was present at the election.

Under the new regime the order has a Mother General and four assistant mothers. Heretofore the order has had only one Mother Superior. At present there are seventy-five houses of the community in the United States. Sister Eutropa, the new Mother General, has been Mother Superior for three years. For several years she was Mother Superior at Presentation Academy.

ST. ANN'S DAY.

Next Wednesday will be St. Ann's day and will be celebrated at St. Ann's church, Seventh and Davises streets, with a solemn high mass. The pastor, Rev. Father John T. Hill, will be the celebrant and will be assisted by several local clergymen. Father Hill will also officiate at solemn vespers in the evening at 7:30 o'clock. At both ceremonies those present will be blessed with a relic of St. Ann. In the evening a handsome crucifix will also be blessed.

ST. WILLIAM'S FETE.

There will be a lawn fete for the benefit of St. William's church on the lawn, Oak street, near Thirtieth, next Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons and evenings. Supper will be served and there will be a bountiful supply of ice cream. The pastor, Rev. Lawrence B. Ford, invites his friends from all over the city to attend.

FEAST OF ST. CARMEL.

Last Sunday the church celebrated the feast of our Lady of Mt. Carmel, or the scapular feast. Scapulars have been worn for centuries by devout Catholics as a badge of faith.

For $21,000 the Knights of Columbus of Spokane, Wash., last week closed negotiations for the purchase of the southwest corner of Washington street and Seventh avenue, as the site for the new home and club building which will be built in the next year.

SCORE AGAIN.

Hibernians Held Old Time Family Reunion and Picnic.

The annual picnic and reunion given under the joint auspices of the County Board and four local divisions of the Ancient Order of Hibernians at Phoenix Hill Park on Thursday was a great success. Threatening weather may have deterred a few, but the crowd was large enough to be comfortable and homelike. Everybody seemed to know everybody else, and it was a good old fashioned gathering of Irish friends and neighbors.

Of course there were lots of Americans on hand to spend the afternoon and evening with their Irish-American brethren, and all were made to feel at home. The orchestra under the direction of Prof. Dennis Collins rendered excellent music for the dancers, and the greater part of it was Irish music. Much of the success of the picnic is due to the active labors of the Press and Publicity Committee.

VISITED HIS FATHER.

James P. Cronin, a veteran railroad employe and father of the Very Rev. James P. Cronin, V. G., is seriously ill at his home in Lexington. Father Cronin spent several days at his bedside and left him somewhat improved.

BISHOP IMPROVES.

It is pleasing to friends of the Right Rev. Bishop Donoghue to learn that he is steadily improving.

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing
the Past Week—General News Notes.Where was Con Ford last Sunday? Ask him.What will Kentucky do for the diamond jubilee?
Councilman Mike McDermott had Hertrand Hall cool and comfortable for Sunday's meeting.Great activity is now manifest in the Southern States visited by National President Regan.On a recent Sunday fifty members were received into the Ladies' Auxiliary at Winnipeg, Manitoba.The proposed address to Catholic Irishmen should bring into the order several hundred new members.Next comes the Ladies' Auxiliary outing at Fontaine Ferry. All should lend their aid and thus make it a grand success.County President Coleman has the right idea of increasing the membership. He is working zealously for all the divisions.Much credit is due the Press Committee for its work for the picnic.
To their efforts is largely due the splendid success achieved.The Hibernians of Pueblo, Col., gave a dance Monday for the benefit of the uniform fund for the military company recently formed.The action of Division 3 in changing its meeting night for their Pontaine Ferry outing is much appreciated by the Ladies' Auxiliary.At the next County Board meeting the subject of interest will be the proposed St. Patrick's day parade.
By all means let us have one—a big one.National President Regan is doing excellent work in the South. Dates are being arranged for him in Texas, Georgia, Alabama, Louisiana and Tennessee.Members who have tickets for the Phoenix Hill picnic are urgently requested to make return for the same at the next meeting of their respective divisions.The inspiration of the presence of National President Regan has helped to give new life to the order in localities where it was lagging.
Bring him to Kentucky.When Father O'Flanagan and Flonan McColum, the Irish envoys, visited Butte, Mont., Division 1 of that city contributed $100 to the language movement they represent.The suggestion that National President Regan be invited to visit Kentucky has been received by universal approval. The Falls Cities would give him a royal reception.Syracuse Hibernians held their annual celebration Thursday at Long Branch, and in addition to the usual attractions presented an extensive programme of athletic events.The divisions of Portland, Ore., will observe the diamond jubilee of the order with a three days' celebration, beginning Sunday, September 3, with an initiation of seventy-five candidates.Ladies' Auxiliary 1 of Minneapolis will celebrate its seventeenth anniversary with a banquet picnic tomorrow at Minnehaha Falls and a social card party and dance at their hall
Monday night.President William Murphy remained at home Sunday to entertain a young Hibernian. Just arrived with the big President there are now seven in the family, enough to start another division.Division 4 meets Monday night and a large attendance is looked for.
President Hennessy will present to the meeting a number of communications and matters of interest to every one in the order.Charles Osh came a long distance to attend the quarterly meeting and received the glad hand from everybody. He is one of the most enthusiastic members of the order and has for years been one of the mainstays of Division 2.Upon all sides are heard expressions of satisfaction over the results of the quarterly meetings.
They bring the members together and promote a feeling and interest that must prove beneficial and strengthen the order.

YELLOW BROTHER

Enters Novitiate of Jesuits in Southern Part of California.The first Japanese in America to enter the Jesuit order is Francis Masul, of Spokane, Wash. He has entered the novitiate at Los Gatos, Cal., as a lay brother.Masul was converted in Spokane six years ago. He is twenty-four years of age and his home is in Japan, where his parents still reside.The decision of the young Japanese to enter the Jesuit order is considered by local Catholics to be of historical significance, recalling as it does the early part of the seventeenth century, when hundreds of Japanese Catholics were martyred. Of recent years several Japanese have become Catholic converts, but Masul is the first in this country to enter the order.With Masul went three Gonzaga students, William O'Brien, son of J. P. O'Brien, Spokane; Daniel Meagher, Missoula, Mont., and John J. Keep, of Boston, Mass. They will enter the Jesuit order with the object of becoming priests.

SUBSCRIBING LIBERALLY.

To date $125,000 has been subscribed for the Gibbons Hall fund.
This means that the Cardinal Gibbons Memorial Hall in Washington,

CAME HERE TO MARRY.

Miss Laura Newcomer, of Muncie, Ind., and Charles D. Siegler, of Riverside, Ind., came to Louisville and were quietly married at the First Christian Evangelical Lutheranchurch, on Broadway, near Underhill street, at high noon on Wednesday. After a brief bridal trip Mr.
and Mrs. Siegler will make their home at Muncie, where Mr. Siegler will engage in the bakery business.

CHICAGO GAELS

Planning Greatest Fete of Western World For September.The Celtic-American Societies of Chicago are preparing to hold a monster demonstration at Brand's Park on September 17. It promises to be one of the greatest Irish gatherings ever held in the Western hemisphere. Hon. John E. Redmond,
the Irish Parliamentary leader; Hon.
T. P. O'Connor, one of his able lieutenants, and William Jennings Bryan will deliver addresses.The societies think they will succeed in their efforts to bring an Irish band to the United States to furnish the music. They are now in correspondence with St. Mary's of Immerick and the Glenmell Pipers band and it is expected one will be secured. Outside of the oratory of that day the other attractions will be the Irish dancing championship of the world, in which Prof. Treahy, champion dancer of Ireland, will meet Prof. O'Connor, of New York, and Prof. McNamara, Ryan, Coleman and Hardiman of Chicago.Twenty-six Catholic societies have joined to get up the affair.

FIRST ANNIVERSARY.

The Rev. Father Patrick Monaghan, Secretary to Bishop O'Donaghue, observed the first anniversary of his ordination last Sunday by officiating at solemn high mass at St.
Patrick's church. Rev. Father Mc-Aleer was the deacon and M. Norton, a student at St. Louis University, was subdeacon. An eloquent sermon was preached by the Very Rev.
Father James P. Cronin, V. G.

LAST SALES' DAY.

The Board of Public Safety on Wednesday accepted the resignation of J. A. Sales as a member of the Louisville police force. Sales was a Lieutenant under the Head regime. His resignation came under charges of sleeping on duty and conduct unbecoming an officer.
Sales will not be missed.

FONTAINE FERRY.

Afternoon and night Fontaine
Ferry Park is thronged with people seeking pleasure and relief from the heat of the city. The theatre has been the mecca for thousands since the bill for next week should maintain its popularity. All the park amusement devices are well patronized, and the music in the park continues a popular feature for music lovers.

RECENT DEATHS.

Edward Farrell, well and favorably known on the "Hill," died at his home, 1125 Rogers street, on Tuesday afternoon. He is survived by his wife, who was Miss Catherine Dunn, and was a brother-in-law of Thomas Dunn, candidate for Constable in the Fifth Magisterial district. The funeral took place from St. Aloysius' church on Thursday morning.

EARLY CANDIDATE.

Councilman Bernard A. Coll, of Jeffersonville, has formally announced his candidacy for Treasurer of Clark county, Indiana, subject to the action of the Democratic primary next spring. Mr. Coll held the office for two terms of two years each.
If Louisville votes would elect him
Barney would be a sure winner.

PATRONAL FEAST.

Tomorrow the feast of St. Vincent de Paul will be solemnly observed at St. Vincent de Paul church, Shelby and Oak streets. At 10 o'clock Rev.
Father A. J. Thome, the pastor, will celebrate high mass and preach a panegyric of the patron saint of the church. Solemn vespers will be sung at 2:30 o'clock.

OHIO'S BIG MAN DEAD.

Heart disease caused the death on Sunday of William McCarthy, aged forty, at Canal Dover. He is said to have been the largest man in Ohio. During the last year he had gained flesh at the rate of five pounds a month, and at the time of his death weighed 495 pounds.

OLD FASHIONED OUTING.

The locomotive engineers employed on the Illinois Central and Henderson roads will give an old fashioned outing at Fern Grove on August 19. The boats will leave the foot of First street at 1 o'clock in the morning and at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. A good time is assured all who attend.

OLD WARRIOR DIES.

Michael Mooney, said to have been one of the two survivors of the crow which massted at the Monitor when it fought and vanquished the Confederate steamer Merrimack, died at Sawtelle, Cal., last Saturday. He was an inmate of the National Soldiers' Home there. The other survivor is said to live in Philadelphia.

NIAGARA EXCURSION.

Members of Mackin Council are hustling to make the excursion to Niagara Falls, August 15 to 20, a success. The total expense to each person making the trip will be $28.50. Attorney Joseph D. Hancock, whose office is in the Louisville
Trust building, is managing the affair.

MISSIONARIES REST.

All the missionary priests of the Passionist Order are taking a much needed rest at St. Red Heart Retreat.
They will resume their arduous missionary work in September.

IRELAND.

Record of the Most Important of the Recent Events Culled From Exchanges.At a meeting of the committee of the Galway Town Tenants' League 193 tenants were elected members.
Judge Curran, at Longford Quarter Sessions, said there were only four small criminal cases for disposal.For the second time in succession Judge Orr has been presented with white gloves at Ballymena Quarter Sessions.D. A. Mulcahy has been appointed Principal of the Birr technical school and Organizer for South King's county.Much regret has been occasioned in North Meath by the death of Patrick Daly, Moynalty, which took place at an advanced age.At the Derry Quarter Sessions, the Judge was presented with a pair of white gloves as a token of their being no criminal cases on the calendar.By the death of Alderman Matthew Colliery Sligo loses one of its prominent and respected townsmen.
The deceased was son of the late Alderman Colliery.The Most Rev. Dr. Browne, Bishop of Cloyne, and Dr. Windle were unanimously elected Chairman and Vice Chairman of the Cork County Technical Committee.After thirty-nine years as a kindly pastor, counsellor and friend, the Very Rev. Canon McMahon has retired, much to the regret of his parishioners at Kilmihil, County Clare.In order to insure a thorough spraying of the potato crop in County Leitrim the Department of Agriculture has made arrangements to sell the farmers spraying machines.The death of Patrick Herlihy, of Rockchapel, took place recently at the fine old age of ninety-seven years. He was prominent in the Fenian movement in his native district.Through the accidental discharge of his gun while shooting crows, a young man named Sinnott, living near New Ross, was killed, the contents of one barrel lodging in his body.At a recent meeting of the Athy Urban Council a letter was read from the Local Government Board stating that they could not sanction the appointment of Michael Bradley as Town Surveyor.A verdict of suicide while temporarily insane was returned at an inquest on the body of a shoemaker named Thomas Gray, who was found dead in his house at Thurles with a bullet wound in his head.A woman of middle age named Ellen Molloy, of Crevinmahagh, near Athlone, after helping an infirm man into the workhouse ambulance van prior to his removal to the hospital, suddenly collapsed and died.Out of a population of nearly 20,000 in the New Ross Petty Sessions districts there was not a single case of drunkenness at the last Petty Sessions Court. This has happened frequently during the past six or eight months.At the annual meeting of the Car-
low County Council Walter Kavanagh was unanimously re-elected Chairman. His ability as a Chairman, apart altogether from his intellectual qualities in many other respects, make him an invaluable asset in the public life of the County Carlow.The death is intimated of Matthew Kinella, one of the oldest members of the Fenian organization in Dublin.
Deceased was connected with the invincible movement, and was sentenced to fifteen years' imprisonment for the Tighe street murder in 1891.
Kinella served the full term in Maryborough, Downpatrick and Mountjoy prisons.

FINE GIFT.

Countess Remembers Her Old Home in Kilkenny.A valuable presentation was recently made to the Cathedral of Kilkenny, Ireland, the donor being the Countess von Musil-Mollenbruck,
now residing at Baden, in Austria.
The Countess is a native of the district of Osney, her maiden name being Miss Julia Molloy. She became acquainted with the distinguished Irish nobleman who afterward became her husband in California. She never forgot her own country or her own home, nor the church to which she belonged, and of which the Count and herself are faithful and devoted members. Her gifts to the Cathedral include a magnificent chalice, ciborium and monstrance, all of solid silver, a beautiful oil painting of the Madonna, a copy of Raphael's famous masterpiece, a bust of the Saviour sculptured in white marble, standing on a marble pedestal; a richly woven carpet for the sanctuary and a set of altar cloths finished with beautifully worked lace.

PRESIDENT GREETES TEACHERS.

The University Summer School
for teaching Sisters and women teachers at Washington, D. C., has proven a great success. The registration this year has reached 300, and the great majority of them are nuns. Last week they visited the White House and were introduced to President Taft, who shook hands with every one of them.

MILITARY MASS PICTURES.

Biograph pictures of the military mass that was recently celebrated at the foot of the Washington monument for the Catholic soldiers and sailors who died in the war with Spain, are now being exhibited in one of the theaters in Washington, D. C., and are drawing immense crowds. They give a fair idea of the grand function that drew an immense multitude, including Presi-

Piano Values--Our Methods

In advertising our piano values and our methods it is our purpose to advise with all, along intelligent lines—the course to pursue in selecting a piano—one of real worth for the money you invest. We are confident of having the largest lines of quality pianos at the lowest prices, and our liberal terms of payment privileges you to the ownership of a piano the day you make your selection by investing a small amount of cash as first payment.

Our one-price policy must convince even the most doubting of our superior service in treating one customer the same as another, and is a point to be well considered when purchasing a piano. We invite inspections and comparison.

VISITORS

From County Board Attended Big Meeting of Division 1.

Division 1, A. O. H., held a splendid meeting on Tuesday night with President William Murphy occupying the chair. The communication from the National Board was read and proved both interesting and instructive to the members. John Owen, Tim Lyons and Louis Roller, who had been ill, were reported off the sick list. The division gave a hearty welcome to the visitors from the County Board. They were County President D. J. Coleman, Secretary Thomas Stevens, of Division 3; Thomas Langan and Thomas Hession, of Division 4, and John G. Hession, of Division 3.

James Barry, for the Finance Committee, reported the transactions of the past six months and showed that the treasury had been increased notwithstanding the heavy expense and many benefits paid out. T. W. Farney reported that Division 1 had perfected all its arrangements for the annual picnic.

County President D. J. Coleman complimented Division 1 on its good attendance and active work and urged all to strive to increase the membership. He stated that the utmost harmony prevailed between the County Board and the various divisions and that the indications promised a large membership in the future. At this point, a call was made for the excellent work done by the Press Committee in advertising the picnic. Others who spoke were State Senator Mark Ryan, Thomas Langan, Thomas Lynch, John Hession and Thomas Stevens. Thomas Lawler was appointed to represent Division 1 on the committee which is to prepare an address setting forth the aims and objects of the order.

CENTRAL COMMITTEE

Heard Reports and An Able Address From Gen. Reichert.

The Central Committee, C. K. of A., held a well attended meeting on Friday night of last week. President Eugene McCarthy occupied the chair, and after the minutes had been read and approved announced the death of Attorney Newton G. Rogers, a former President of the Central Committee. The committee that arranged the excursion to Jasper made its report and showed that the affair had been a social and financial success.

The Central Committee accepted the invitation of Pontaine Ferry Park to hold the annual C. K. of A. outing there on August 23. Several branches announced that they were receiving applications for membership, and quite a lot of routine business was transacted. Gen. Michael Reichert made an able address on organization. His remarks were an important feature of the meeting.

PRIEST SUCCUMBS.

Veteran Worker in Southern Indiana Answers Last Call.

The Rev. Father Alexander Koester died at St. Edward's Hospital, New Albany, on Wednesday. He had been a patient in that institution for five years and suffered from a complication of ailments. His death was not unexpected.

Father Koester was born in Oldenburg, Germany, sixty-two years ago, and had been a priest thirty-six years. For thirty years he labored on various missions in Southern Indiana and was still hard at work when illness forced a cessation of his labors.

The funeral took place from St. Mary's church yesterday morning and many priests from Southern Indiana and Louisville were present in the sanctuary.

HOPKINS.

For next week the Hopkins Theater will have another of its popular "laughing bills," which the management announces as one of the best of the season. The numbers include some comedy business never presented here, novelty and burlesque acts and vocal and musical turns that will please its patrons and add to its popularity.

FOR ST. ANN'S SCHOOL.

A lawn fete for the benefit of St. Ann's school will be given on the church lawn, Seventh and Daviess avenues, on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons and evenings, August 23 and 24. The euchre games will be called at 3 and 8 o'clock. Supper will be served each evening by the ladies of the congregation. Quite a number of handsome articles have been donated to Rev. Father Hill for the fete.

ELECTED DELEGATE.

Chickasaw Council, Y. M. I., of Memphis, at a largely attended meeting last week elected George W. Dietzel as its delegate to the Grand Council convention to be held at Carrollton next month. Delegate Dietzel is an officer of Chickasaw Council and is serving his fourth term as Recording Secretary. Edward P. Colbert was chosen as alternate.

CATHOLIC KNIGHTS' DAY.

The Catholic Knights of America will have their annual outing at Pontaine Ferry Park on Wednesday, August 23. There will be special vaudeville turns, music and other attractions. A special programme will be arranged and will soon be announced.

Recommended by a Pastor. 6 Damian 19, 1910. My daughter suffered 4 years from Epileptic fits, had 3 to 4 attacks in a week, often 2 in a single day. Our doctor treated her without any result. Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic, which she took, and after that would not get another fit. For 15 years I was sick with fits, continued up to 4 years ago, when I took Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic and had just one attack since. My heartiest thanks for that blessed remedy.

COLONELS' ILL LUCK.

Louisville will play today, tomorrow and Monday at Milwaukee and will then jump to Kansas City for a two-game series, and the fans are hoping against hope that they can break their present losing streak in these series, although so far Milwaukee has proven to be the surprise of the league, as no one predicted them to be better than seventh or eighth at this time. When you canvass their list of old timers like Stone, Randall, Clark, Marshall and Barrett it makes one wonder that they have not been last all season. There is an old axiom that when a team is going bad everything breaks for them, including poor umpiring, of which Louisville has had more than her share, seeming to have Naves all of the time, coupled with Edginger, who tries to even up on bad decisions. But on the whole our slump could be traced to one fact, that of the injury to Lemoor, although Robinson's accident and the flight of Kroh were also in a measure responsible for our losing streak. Right now of all times is when the fans can prove their loyalty by pinning their faith to the management and elude to recover their lost prestige, which will not prove hard, as it is anybody's race just at present and everyone a contender.

PICNIC AND CHICKEN FRY.

The third annual picnic and chicken fry of the congregation of St. Vincent de Paul will be held at Phoenix Hill Park next Wednesday. It will be an all day affair. Children under twelve years old will be admitted free. The euchre and lotto games will be called at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Whatever funds are raised will be donated to the new school of St. Vincent de Paul parish.

WINS PROMOTION.

It was with great pleasure that the Louisville friends of Edward A. Cosgrove learned that he had been promoted to the position of general sales manager for the Mermoid, Jaccard & King Jewellery Company, of St. Louis. Mr. Cosgrove removed from Louisville to St. Louis about eight years ago. He is a brother of Hon. P. J. Cosgrove, the attorney.

HUSH DAY.

The Hibernians of Cincinnati will celebrate Irish day at Chester Park on August 13. President Taft and Gov. Harmon have been invited to attend. A feature of the day will be Irish cross road dances.

FOURTEEN

Young Women Give Up All For Sake of Their Religion.

At the Sacred Heart Academy, Crescent Hill, on Wednesday morning, fourteen young ladies made their profession as Ursuline nuns and seven others were received as postulants. Those who made their profession had received the habit two years ago. The postulants first appeared as brides, and upon signifying their intention to become members of the order retired, divested themselves of the bridal garments and appeared in the garb of the Ursuline Sisters.

The nuns who made their profession were Sister Mary Zita, formerly Miss Angela Wilkins; Sister Miriam, formerly Miss Minnie Feldman; Sister M. Demetria, formerly Miss Anna May Coleman; Sister M. Angellina, formerly Miss Eda Gels; Sister M. Leonore, formerly Miss Bertha Cook; Sister M. Lydia, formerly Miss Lula Fowler; Sister M. Agnella, formerly Miss Mary Halbleib; Sister M. Amanda, formerly Miss Mary Caulfield; Sister M. Lioha, formerly Miss Hilda Reiss; Sister M. Hildegard, formerly Miss Bertha Kruse; Sister M. Boniface, formerly Miss Josephine Lenz; Sister M. De Lourdes, formerly Miss Emily Gohmann; Sister M. Theodolinda, formerly Miss Catherine Obermeyer; Sister M. Mercedes, formerly Miss Elizabeth O'Connell.

The novices were Misses Josephine Wessel, Mary Pfadt, Beatie Belcher, Katie Guenther, Flora Tillman, Katie Fisher and Katie Constantine.

FESTIVAL

Of St. Vincent de Paul Will Be Observed at St. George's.

Tomorrow will be celebrated the world over by members of the St. Vincent de Paul Society, because it is the first Sunday after the feast of St. Vincent de Paul. Here in Louisville the members will have their general communion at the 7:30 o'clock mass at St. George's church. The general meeting of all the conferences in the city will be held at the Knights of Columbus Hall, Fourth avenue, near York, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. St. Francis Hall, in the basement of the Cathedral, where the general meetings are usually held, is undergoing extensive renovation and repairs, and the Knights of Columbus graciously tendered their hall for tomorrow's meeting.

Father George Weiss, the pastor, will be the celebrant of the mass, and the church, which seats about 700 people, will be reserved entirely for the Vincentians. Prof. Leo Krollross will direct the choir, made up of members of the society from the various choirs of the city, and an excellent musical programme will be rendered. The Louisville Railway Company has promised to place extra cars on the Eighteenth-street line from 7 to 7:30 o'clock, insuring ample accommodation for members from all sections of the city.

UP THEY GO.

J. G. Clifford and J. J. Flynn Both Earn Nice New Berths.

C. F. Giles, who is proving a safe and sane Superintendent of Machinery for the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company, has appointed J. G. Clifford master mechanic at Louisville, and John J. Flynn, for several years master mechanic at Nashville, assistant to Mr. Clifford.

Mr. Giles believes in the home grown product. Instead of importing outsiders he has promoted two men who have given the best years of their lives to the railroad company. Johnny Flynn is a native of Louisville, was raised in Limerick, educated at St. Xavier's College, and served his apprenticeship at the L. and N. shops. He has been climbing ever since. Mr. Clifford is another L. and N. standby and has been here so long that he has become a Louisvillean by adoption.

MOTION PICTURES.

Always cool and comfortable, the Casino and Orpheum have listed for presentation next week moving pictures not seen here before. This in itself will lend interest to the programme, and as all their offerings have received the seal of approval, the indications are that the drawing cards offered will be witnessed by large and pleased audiences.
